

The School of Warriors is an idea.

A vision 'seed' to see a generation of young and old become who they were born to be.

Warriors are men and Women who live with an awakened heart, living in such a way that even sceptics will be silenced.

A people who are involved in kingdom projects that they believe in so passionately, that no matter what comes against them, the obstacles, the resistance, the challenges... that they will not back down, simply because they love what they do.

A people who enjoy their work because what they do for a living is not just their careers but rather their callings. And their callings aren't limited to just spheres within the church either.

A people marked by creative and anointed leadership with innovation, strategy and tactics.

This is not a flaky group of people. Nor are they attention seekers, significance hunters. They are solid, confident, restful, relaxed. They know who God is, they know who they are, and they are comfortable with that.

Warriors are a people who have tremendous heart connection, because they have connected with their own hearts and the inner man of the Spirit, because they have personally experienced the tangible forgiveness, healing and restoration of their souls by the work of the Holy Spirit.

Warriors are people who have heard the affirming words of their Heavenly Dad, and they are filled with His perspective of them, to the point that they no longer fear what other people think or say about them. They are not wounded by rejection, nor are they touched by the praise of man. They can hear God's voice speaking intimately as a whisper, see visions and dream dreams.

Warriors live as Royal children because they have experienced and discovered the Father & Mother Heart of God.

Warriors change the very atmosphere around them, and bring the blessings of Heaven into their very midst.

Warriors understand the honour and nobility of leadership and responsibility. They function in five-fold teams.

Warriors who are Lovers, Poets, Explorers, Royals, Sons, Daughters, Sages.

Warrior training is holistic, solid in values and fluid in method. Adaptable. Real Life based.

Warriors accept life as a tutor and the Holy Spirit their teacher.

Warriors enjoy physical training, mental and emotional development, with spiritual nurturing.

Training for the David's, Joshua's, Deborah's, Ruth's, Mary's, Abraham's, Moses and the Gideon's in our midst. The body of Jesus on the earth today.
